

Mansfield, Susan

Susan Mansfield, R.D.H., Ed.D., is retired as Dean of the College of Allied Health Sciences at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center (1998-2005). At Northern Arizona University, Mansfield served as Interim Dean of the College of Health Professions (1997-1998), Chair of the Department of Dental Hygiene (1983-1997), coordinator of the Dental Hygiene Expanded Functions program, and the Dental Hygiene Clinical Director. Mansfield earned an Ed.D. in Higher Education Administration at Memphis State University (1989), a Master's Degree in Educational Administration (1978) and a Bachelor's Degree in Dental Hygiene at Northern Arizona University (1976), as well as an Associate of Science Degree in Dental Hygiene at North Dakota State School of Science (1970). Mansfield was instrumental in creating the Master of Dental Hygiene program at the University of Tennessee Health Sciences Center. She has served on the Memphis Biotech Foundation Education Committee, the Tennessee Hospital Association Workforce Development Advisory Board, and the Tennessee Educational Council for Health Service Programs. She is a member of the Association of Schools of Allied Health Professions, The Tennessee Educational Council for Health Science Programs, the American Dental Hygienists' Association, and the American Association of Dental Schools. Hobbies include travel, camping and reading.